

REDEEMER BIBLE FELLOWSHIP

Youth Fellowship Review

Recap + Encouragement

God has been gracious to our youth fellowship this past school year. Despite challenges from COVID-19, the Lord has allowed us to meet in person safely to play games, worship, hear from God's word and take part in small group discussions.

As many plan for their summer, I encourage parents and youth to make God a priority. May walking closely with the Lord be more important than vacation. May studying God's word be more important than college applications. This summer commit to reading and loving God's word, fighting against sin and pursuing holiness by the grace of God! Ponder the gospel and on Christ who died on the cross for your sin. Take on the whole armor of God that you may be able to withstand the attacks of Satan this summer! Furthermore, may students love and obey their parents and may parents love and not be harsh with their children.

Ephesians 5 workshop on husbands, wives and marriage

Teaching Highlights

This year, we walked through the book of Ephesians and also dove into some topical workshop teaching nights. With so many ideas and views in the world, there is the need to know how to apply the Bible to the issues of our day. I am thankful for faithful counselors and good discussions. Here are the workshops we have gone through this year:

- Husbands and Wives
- Honor And Obey Parents
- Homosexuality, Marriage and Gender
- Depression

Small Group Hangouts are filled with fun and food. Activities range from Code Names, bowling, pickleball, Super Smash Brothers, McDonalds, painting, and making dumplings!

Focus Group

Nathan, Janine and Eunice attended focus group this year which regularly met early Sunday mornings. Our group read through “Filling Up the Afflictions of Christ” by John Piper on the amazing lives of William Tyndale, Adoniram Judson and John Paton. We also read through parts of “What Jesus Demands from The World” by John Piper. Feel free to ask them to recite the Gospel of John as well (at least parts of it)!

Youth Retreat

We had a youth retreat at Asilomar Conference Grounds! Together we ate, played games, and heard from God’s word. The theme of the retreat was “Committed to Christ.” Following Christ involves a genuine commitment to him even if it might bring difficulty and turmoil in this world. However, following Christ and forsaking sin and this world is worth it! Christ is the way to true life, to eternal life! May God cause us to love him more than anything in this world!

Graduation Night!

Congratulations to Edward, Jessica, Vienna and Hannah! May the Lord bless these seniors and cause them to walk closely with him.
